FALL HARVEST DINNER TO BENEFIT SAN DIEGO FOOD BANK ON NOV. 13

Three-course Meal with Wine Pairings at Fish Public Will Feature Fall Seasonal Produce

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 31, 2014 — Farm Fresh To You (www.farmfreshtoyou.com), a Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) and produce delivery service, is teaming with Kensington's go-to seafood hotspot Fish Public for a "Fall Harvest Dinner" on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 6:30 p.m. The exclusive, farm-to-fork dining fundraiser will consist of a special three-course menu highlighting the freshest flavors of the season complete with wine pairings.

In addition, Fish Public's Executive Chef Joe Magnanelli and Executive Sous Chef Mark Schmitt will talk to the dinner crowd along with farmer Thaddeus Barsotti of Farm Fresh To You. The trio will discuss seasonal eating, sourcing produce from farms and sustainable farming practices.

Dinner proceeds will benefit the Jacobs & Cushman San Diego Food Bank.

"We have partnered with Farm Fresh To You since they started delivering in the San Diego area. Their Donate-A-Box program is bringing fresh produce to our clients," said James A. Floros, president & CEO of San Diego Food Bank. "We appreciate being named the beneficiary for this dinner."

"Our work with food banks is a critical part of giving back to the communities we serve," said Barsotti. "We also want to support restaurants like Fish Public that source local, quality ingredients. We are part of food movement where we want everyone to have access to fresh fruits and vegetables from farmers."

Tickets for the dinner are $125, and Fish Public is located at 4055 Adams Avenue in Kensington. For tickets and more information visit:

About Farm Fresh To You

Founded in 1992, Farm Fresh To You is a Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) and home and office delivery service that provides fresh, local, organic produce to consumers' doorsteps. Farming since 1976, this second-generation organic farm pioneered the organic food movement and is owned by brothers Noah Barnes and Thaddeus and Freeman Barsotti. The company is connecting communities and sustainable farms through a transparent food system that enables consumers to know their farmer and where their food is grown. Farm Fresh To You started to deliver produce in the San Diego area in 2013.

About Fish Public

Restaurant visionary Tracy Borkum manifests a quaint 3,500-square-foot seafood eatery in San Diego's charming Kensington neighborhood with Fish Public, which opened doors in June 2013. Fish offers quality sea fare at accessible price points and draws culinary inspiration from the Atlantic's Gulf Coast, New England and English Coast as well as West Coast of America, Baja and Pacific Rim regions. Unique offerings include an artisan retail area and a custom chef's oyster counter with peek-a-boo views into the kitchen. The interior design, spearheaded by Borkum herself, is reminiscent of a Nantucket-inspired beach cottage with a light and airy appeal. Focal details include whitewashed wood accents and unexpected lighting fixtures fashioned from old fishing nets. Fish Public's beverage program is comprised of draft craft beers, an international wine selection and an eclectic cocktail menu with all mixers, syrups and infusions made in-house. Fish Public is located at 4055 Adams Avenue and is open Sunday from 5-9pm, Tuesday through Thursday from 5-9pm, and Friday through Saturday from 5-10pm.
